Redding Instant Indicators Safety Instruction Guide

Introduction

Thank you for choosing the Redding Instant Indicator, a precision tool designed for hand loaders to compare headspace and bullet seating depth. This guide provides essential safety instructions and guidelines to ensure the safe and effective use of this product. Please read this guide thoroughly before using the Redding Instant Indicator.

General Safety Guidelines

- Ensure the product is used only for its intended purpose, which is to measure headspace and bullet seating depth.
- Always handle the tool with care to avoid injury or damage.
- Keep the tool away from children and vulnerable individuals.
- Inspect the tool regularly for any signs of wear or damage. Do not use if damaged.
- Follow all local laws and regulations regarding ammunition and reloading practices.
- Report any unsafe conditions or incidents to the appropriate authorities.

Specific Safety Precautions for Use

- Always wear appropriate eye protection when using the Redding Instant Indicator.
- Ensure that the work area is clean, dry, and welllit.
- Do not use the tool in the presence of flammable materials or liquids.
- Handle fired cases with caution, as they may have sharp edges or other hazards.
- Avoid using excessive force when measuring, as this may lead to inaccurate readings or damage to the tool.
- Do not modify the tool in any way, as this could compromise its safety and effectiveness.

Instructions for Installation and Usage

1. Setup:

- Remove the Redding Instant Indicator from its packaging.
- Ensure that all components are present: one bore diameter bushing, surface contactor, shoulder contactor, headspace gauge, and complete instructions.

2. Using the Tool:

- Insert the appropriate bore diameter bushing for the cartridge you are measuring (e.g., 204 Ruger).
- Position the surface contactor against the bullet or case you wish to measure.
- Gently press the shoulder contactor against the shoulder of the case to determine headspace.
- Read the measurements on the gauge to assess uniformity in bullet seating depth, headspace, and other parameters as needed.

3. Sorting and Comparison:

- Use the Instant Indicator to sort bullets and cases for uniformity.
- Compare sized cases to fired cases to determine the amount of headspace.
- Check the uniformity of shoulder bump and bullet seating depth.

4. PostUse:

- Clean the tool after each use to maintain accuracy and prolong its lifespan.
- Store the tool in a safe, dry location away from children and unauthorized users.

Disposal Instructions

- Dispose of the Redding Instant Indicator in accordance with local regulations regarding electronic waste and tools.
- If the tool is damaged beyond repair, recycle components where possible to minimize environmental impact.
