The MDT AICS-Pattern Metal Magazines are designed for shooters who demand reliability, durability, and performance. Featuring MDT's unique Double Stack to Single Feed (DSSF) transition, these magazines offer a reduced overall height for smoother, more efficient mag changes — especially when shooting prone.

1. Compact Design - The 12-round magazine is approximately $\frac{3}{4}$ " shorter than standard AICS magazines, making it easier to handle and change mags in tight shooting positions.
2. Premium Materials - Made from high-strength steel, ensuring long-lasting performance even in harsh conditions.
3. Ultimate Protection - Finished inside and out with Cerakote Elite, offering exceptional durability, corrosion resistance, and reduced friction for smoother feeding.
